

Towerpoint Tennis Club - Appreciation Award

During Kevin's many years with the tennis club, he has been involved in just about everything at one time or another. Kevin is one of those members that likes to be involved in many club activities from getting the courts ready for the start of the season, to helping with club tournaments to player development. One of the key contributions Kevin makes time and time again is player development and advancement. He coaches, evaluates, advises and yes, even offers constructive criticisms when asked (even sometimes when not asked. hehe). Listen, if you want the truth about your game, ask Kevin. Not only will you get a fair, accurate and honest assessment, he will also be the first one to help you improve it if you ask.

As president the year Kevin received the "outstanding member" award, Jim Gawluk was very grateful with all Kevin's behind the scenes help and advice. From court set up and maintenance to communications with the resort management and much more. These are the sorts of things that go un noticed by many, but make a President and executive look very good. When a club has a positive year like we did, it usually means there are members like Kevin Fabian making that happen. Kevin is an outstanding leader of our tennis club. He is an excellent player and a fun guy all around. Thank you Kevin for all the years you have contributed to our club. You make this a much better place to be part of.

Towerpoint Tennis Club - Appreciation Award

Besides having a nice sound to the name, Joel means “The Lord is God” in Hebrew. Make of that what you will.

Joel Woods

You know that TV show “Better Call Saul”? Saul, a shy-ster lawyer, is always called in to save the scofflaws from their problems. For us it’s “Better Call Joel!” The Towerpoint Tennis Club has called on Lord Joel many times to help us solve our problems.

But, let’s acknowledge that the Woods have misjudged a few things about Towerpoint. For instance, they first came here because they believed a brochure that claimed that table tennis was a big deal at TP. After they were disabused of that, they took up a REAL tennis and the die was cast. Our club read the cards and soon realized what an asset Joel was. And we began to institute our habit of “Better Call Joel.”

Need someone to get in the leadership line for President?
All together now, BETTER CALL JOEL

Need a coach for the 1.5s? All together: BETTER CALL JOEL

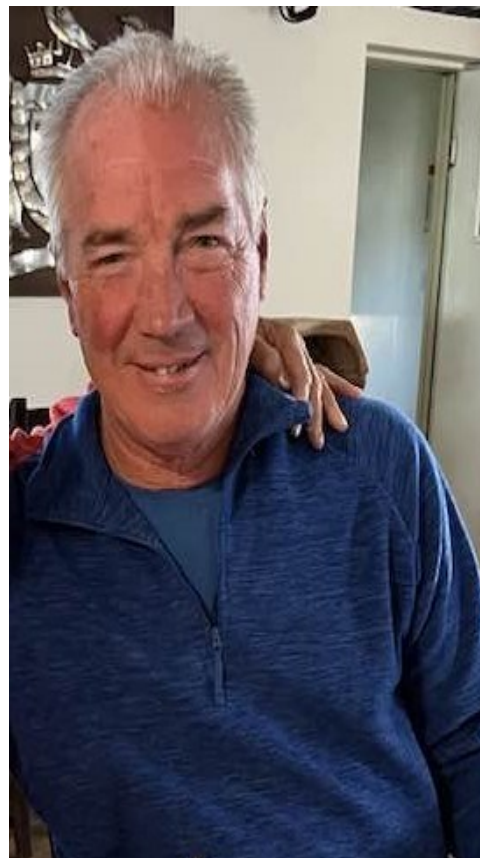

Need a stand in for our President trapped in Canada?
All together now: BETTER CALL JOEL

Who can demonstrate the reservation system for our newbies? All together: BETTER CALL JOEL

Let’s play rec tennis. But, how do we work that program for the 3.0s? All together: BETTER CALL JOEL

Who can grill a hot dog for a party? All together: BETTER CALL JOEL

He answers the call and solves the problem. We can only hope he’s here for many more seasons when we have to say: BETTER CALL JOEL!

During Dave's many years with the Towerpoint Tennis Club, he has accumulated an impressive list of accomplishments as an outstanding leader. He has been or is currently club president, a team captain, team co-captain, team coach, Tencap coordinator, member of the nominating committee, first aid coordinator, court maintenance worker, maker of spaghetti sauce for the fund raiser and tournament coordinator to name a few and I am sure I probably missed something. He is truly an inspiration to others and continues to dedicate his time and energy for the betterment of our tennis club. Congratulations Dave and thanks for being an outstanding inspirational person.

Bill Echert

Bill is probably the best known member of the Tennis Club as a very active player and his frequent informative membership emails with Diana's help as Club Communication Coordinators.

They came to Towerpoint in 2003 and soon became involved in the Entertainment Committee helping raise money for the Tennis Club. On seeing the time consuming task of scheduling the In-Park Tournament, Bill volunteered to put this on his computer converting a 3 day task into half a days work. From Rating Committee Coordinator, Club Website Design Assistance to Spaghetti Dinner Greeter, Bill's cheerful contributions to the Club have been invaluable.

Steve was Tennis Club President - 2x, Team Captain - 3x and counting, Event Coordinator - many x's, Scorekeeper, Cheerleader, Advisor to Club Presidents and Captains.

There isn't a Tennis Club function that Steve hasn't been involved in or been consulted on since coming to Towerpoint in 2001. Steve's second term as Club President was in 2011 - 2012. This was the season the Club finally achieved a tennis team uniform. Also, that year, club coaching by Pat Hurley was implemented to help improve team performance.

Steve and Joanne Nelson's Minnesota home is wonderful and they also love their Towerpoint winter community.

Sandy Lou took up tennis at Towerpoint in 1999 after retiring from a career in teaching Medical Sciences. In addition to being an accomplished tennis player, she has also won 1st place in Precision Shooting competitions.

Kline became a member of the Towerpoint Tennis Club in 2001 and served as President during the 2004-2005 season. He initiated the development of Rating Committee Guidelines, and assisted in their refinement before the club arrived at the current guidelines.

During his year as EVSTL President - 2013-2014, one challenging task he addressed was declining club membership in the 16 park league.

Since 2005, as Club Statistician, Kline has coordinated the consolidation of membership win-loss and games played statistics, and maintained an updated club roster.

Kline and Jan Wilson's summers are spent in Sequim, WA

Diana Echert

2009

A very energetic lady - often found organizing an event, writing a story, helping at the courts, or teaching ball exercise classes. On first arriving at Towerpoint in 2003, she didn't play tennis but her years as a sports physical therapist prompted her to develop a court-side first aid kit.

She helped organize the TP Tennis Entertainment Committee responsible for the tennis dances. Diana is also known for her publicity and communication skills - designing posters for TP Tennis events and writing Time for Tennis articles and email notices. Since 2005, Diana and Bill Echert have been involved in planning or coordinating the end of season Towerpoint Tennis Tournament.

Energy and elegance best describe Emily Hughes. Over her many years at Towerpoint, Emily has been our official decorator and designer. When planning decorations and a theme for the monthly Tennis Dinners, many hosting teams have found their way to Emily's door. She always had new and fresh ideas which made us all feel good.

Emily's ideas also extended to the Festival Parade where she helped the Tennis Club win the Grand Prize several times in the past few years. She has devoted hundreds of hours to the Tennis Club creating costumes, centerpieces, and writing skits for us all. Perhaps her most famous achievement was the Club parade winning entry, "Cleopatra-in-de-Nile".

Towerpoint Tennis Club - Appreciation Award

Reggie Lavesque

Reggie was known as the “man with a heart of gold”. If Reggie heard of anyone at Towerpoint needing help, he would be the first to arrive and the last to leave. When it came time to clean the courts, he was already hard at work when the rest of the guys arrived. Always a smile, handshake, and a word of encouragement. His hidden talent was as a 50/50 ticket seller at the Tennis Dinners...no one said “no” to Reggie.

An excellent athlete, he played both softball and tennis at Towerpoint. Reggie was a long-time member of the 3.0 men’s tennis team and was known to have the best fist pump in the East Valley.

Joe is a man who can fix just about anything. Through sun, rain, floods and dark of night, Joe supervised Towerpoint court maintenance for many years. Joe has dedicated endless hours to making our courts the best place to play in the East Valley.

Originally from Kansas, he moved to Seattle where he worked as a machinist for over 25 years before finding the good life at Towerpoint. An avid volunteer, Joe can be seen helping at the Spaghetti Dinner, tennis invitationals, and many mornings as a league scorekeeper.

Joe can always find time for a tennis game, and has found another talent - photography, for which he has received several awards.

Joe Henwood

2005

Beginning in 2005, the Tennis Club initiated the annual presentation of an award to recognize an individual Club member who has made a special contribution to the Tennis Club.
